

Annika Fehling

Annika Fehling is a performing and recording Swedish singer-songwriter

Annika displays an international sound with the lyrical and vocal sensitivity reminiscent of Joni Mitchell, Shawn Colvin and Emmy Lou Harris. She lives in Visby, capital city of the magical Swedish island of GOTLAND. Annika has 5 CD albums on the market and her 6th solo album being released the 2nd of February, 2005, "Happy on the Red". Regular TV and Radio appearances is just one reason for her success and standing. Annika has been nominated for the Gotland Culture Prize 2003, represented her country at the World Expo Hannover 2000 and fought in the finals of the 1998 Melody Festival of Sweden.

CDs:

"JazzFehlings" 1996 (GM Records/CDA)
"Älskar Du?" 1997 (Musicano Records/Amigo)
"Fehling&Hillered - Live" 2001 (Musicano Records)
"Åkessonger" 2002 (Musicano Records)
"Orange" 2004 (Slow Food Music)
"Megaphone" 2004 (Slow Food Music)

Awards & Prizes:

STIM-prize (the Swedish ASCAP) 1992, 1996, 1999, 2004
Swedish Art-Council Prize 1993, 1996, 1999, 2001, 2003, 2004
Swedish Society of Popular Music Composers, SKAP Award 1996

TV-shows and Concerts:

Sweden Song Contest 1998
World Exhibition Hannover "EXPO 2000"
TV/Radio & tours solo, with band, with duo Fehling & Hillered, with Wisby Big Band Represented Sweden at IMRO's Songwriters Week in Ireland with appearance in Irish TV
Radio & Tours with Slow Food Music in Germany, Portugal, England, Denmark, Sweden (over 60 concerts this year)

Upcoming Events:

New album "Happy on the Red" with producer Lasse Englund, wellknown and acclaimed in Sweden. Release 2005. A new single will be released in January; Already Home, written by Annika and Irish songwriter John Hurley

Contact:

annika@annikafehling.com
info@slowfoodmusic.com
info@gotlandartist.com

More info about Annika at the following sites:

www.annikafehling.com
www.slowfoodmusic.com
www.gotlandartist.com